

The Quiet Hunger to Know

By Al-Ghazier Haradji Kandon

Tawi-Tawi Regional Agricultural College, TRAC Compound, Nalil, Bongao, Tawi-Tawi, 7500,
Philippines Corresponding email: alghazierharadjikandon@gmail.com

A question starts, a thought takes flight,
A spark that grows from day to night;
No book can hold the dreams we show,
For there is always more to know.

We learn through failure day by day,
From quiet roads that shape our way;
Each lesson leaves a mark behind,
And opens doors within the mind.

The teacher speaks, the learner hears,
Yet learning grows beyond the years;
For every answer that we find
Leaves one more question close behind.

So let us ask, explore, and grow,
And chase the things we do not know;
For knowledge starts with something small—
A quiet hunger that calls us all.

ARTICLE DETAILS

LS-0000018; Received: March 04, 2026; Accepted: March 06, 2026; Published: March 08, 2026

CITATION:

Kandon, Al-Ghazier H. (2026). The Quiet Hunger to Know. Literature and Society: Stories and Poetry. DOI: 10.64591/jhknwx31

COPYRIGHT

Copyright © 2026 by author(s). Literature and Society: Stories and Poetry is published by Harness Mind Publishing. This is an Open Access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License (<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>), allowing redistribution and reproduction in any format or medium, provided the original work is cited or recognized.

